

Melba Roy Mouton (b. 1929) was a mathematician and computer programmer in NASA's Trajectory and Geodynamics Division, acting as the Assistant Chief of Research Programmes. Mouton worked at NASA's Goddard Space Flight Center, coding computer programs to calculate the trajectories and locations of various aircraft.

MELBA ROY

Illustration: Kristin DiYona